Farm Labor Agency Now In King Motors Bldg.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade on Tuesday night, an agency was set up to assist the Farmers in this District in the Labor Problem. Now farmers can list their wants, and what they have to offer in a co-operative way to "help your neighbor". So if you need labor, a combine, binder, or other equipment to assist you in this urgency, consult this office which is located in King Motors Building.

L. D. King, O. H. Snow or Lee Brewerton were appointed by the Board of Trade to lend their efforts in this new service. See them for your needs, and if you have some service to offer your farmer friend will appreciate it. This Service Is Strictly Agriculture take advantage of it.

WEDDING BELLS

Garth B. Peterson, son of Mrs. Paul H. Redd, and Miss Hope Wilson of Richfield, Utah were married in the Salt Lake Temple on August 24th. Mr. and Mrs. Redd were in attendance at the ceremony.

The young couple will make their home in Salt Lake City where Garth is engaged in defense work awaiting his call for service in the air force.

Our congratulations are extended to the young couple for a long and happy married life. Garth is well known here and his many friends will join with us in our wishes.

Make your plans NOW to attend the Special Preview Program at the Capitol Sunday night at 12:10 a.m. Special Program that you will enjoy. NOW is the TIME to plan your Party.

"R. D." and MAURICE

Here they are—"R. D." and Maurice—snapped together at CBC's Winnipeg studios. R. D. Coquette, CBC's genial Neighborhood News commentator, and his friendly announcer Maurice Burchell, are heard on Sunday mornings at 9:45 a.m. CDT, 8:45 a.m. MDT. People in all parts of the prairies are now familiar with R.D.'s cheery "Good morning, good morning!" and his faithful admonition to all and sundry to go to church. Equally famous are his exchanges with Maurice, who gets in a word or two on his own now and then. For nearly two years these two familiar voices have been heard each Sunday morning in thousands of western homes, and some westerners would rather miss their breakfast than miss "R. D."

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

We draw the attention of our readers to the advertisement elsewhere in this issue re: Regulations. This is an important matter, and we believe it is something new in Canada. For that reason every employer and employee should study the regulations carefully to avoid any misunderstanding and any conflict with officials of Governments either Provincial or Dominion. Sheets have also been mailed to all individuals affected, and these people should study the sheets as well as reading the advertisement.

A very heavy dew fell Thursday night and Friday morning things were as damp as though we had received a shower of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Medicine Hat arrived here Monday and took over the operation of the Hancock Dairy on Tuesday. Prior to coming to Raymond Mr. Smith was in charge of the Burdick Dairy in the gas city.

Quarterly Conference Convenes

Taylor Stake Conference convened in the Stake House Saturday evening and Sunday last with Elder Stephen L. Richards of the twelve representing the general authorities. Because of unfavorable weather for flying Stake Pres. T. G. Wood was unable to get back from his trip to Montreal for the Conference, and his counsel, Heber F. Allen and Melvin T. King took charge of the various meetings.

Saturday evening was devoted to a discussion of Priesthood problems and discussions centered around the question as to what might be done to maintain Quorum activities during war times. Elders J. W. Evans, H. B. Roberts and Arthur G. Gager spoke briefly to the subject and then Elder Richards related experiences that had come under his observation, and turned the meeting into an open forum for discussion of the theme. Many good ideas were presented to be tried out.

The business sessions of the Conference convened at 10 a.m. Sunday morning and before the presentation of the authorities by Stake Clerk I. B. Roberts, Pres. M. T. King announced the release of Mrs. A. J. Walton as President of the Y.L.M.I.A. and with her the Stake Board. Mrs. J. H. Walker was unanimously sustained as the new President and Mrs. L. H. Jacobs and Mrs. John L. Allen as counselors. The members of the Board to be presented at the next Stake Priesthood. The authorities were then presented and sustained.

M. T. King representing the Stake Presidency, Mrs. Walton and Elder E. L. Spackman spoke briefly the latter speaking on Junior Seminary work and reporting that religious education was again to be given in the schools for a 30 minute period each week. Bishop George Rife of Magrath spoke regarding the hail storm which recently swept the Magrath district and bore his testimony.

Elder Richards spoke of the excellent crops in Southern Alberta and the wonderful prospects we had. He spoke of the progress of the Church in membership and also in meeting needs and said that especially in the central and eastern States where formerly we had met in large halls and unfavorable places, we now had lovely & modern chapels. A change in the attitude of the people was also very noticeable and where years ago the Saints were driven out, elders mistreated, tarred and feathered, and in some instances killed, now the people were anxious to listen to and entertain the bearers of the message of the Church. He spoke of world conditions and of the peace and hope that the Gospel should bring to us. He wished that every enlisted man could appreciate the purposes of the present struggle and could understand that they are helping to prepare the world for the Second Coming and the setting up of a kingdom of justice and equity for all. The Kingdom of God that is to come contemplates full freedom and liberty—freedom to give all allegiance where we choose. Anyone who is fighting to maintain freedom is fighting to build up the Kingdom of God. He very beautifully told the story of "The Prodigal Son" and said that men and nations could be forgiven if they would repent and accept Christ as their Savior & King. Sunday afternoon the Relief Society held the first part of the meeting and short talks were given on their work by Mrs. Myrtle Passey, Stake President, Mrs. John L. Allen and Mrs. H. S. Taylor. Heber F. Allen of the Stake Presidency spoke briefly on Tithing urging honesty on the part of the people respecting this commandment. He urged people to get out of debt and stay out of debt and reported on conditions throughout the Stake. Elder Richards spoke on "Home" the greatest institution and told of what home should stand for in the lives of all of us. He urged everyone to have a neat, clean home, which could be made beautiful and a real haven, even if it were not expensive and lavish. Home should be a focal point for members of the family as long as they live when the right spirit of love and fellowship exists in it. The evening meeting was under the direction of the Mutuals, and besides a lovely sermon by Elder Richards to the youth exhorting them to clearness in thought, word and deed, and regarding the blessing that would accrue from such a mode of life, LeMota Palmer, Betty Lewis and Melba King all three spoke representing the young people of the Stake. The Stake Choir was present Sunday afternoon and evening under the direction of W. C. Stone and rendered a fine program of anthems and choral music in each session.

NEWS NOTES

Plan to attend the Preview at the Capitol Sunday night at 12:10.

Rest P. Ehlerst of the Army Dental Corps at Calgary, Jan are home on two weeks leave after having come home Sunday.

Cardston had a four day rain which didn't let up until Wednesday evening. Probably we were lucky at that with our one dry day Sunday.

Heber F. Allen was speaker at Rotary Monday at his avocation and spoke of "Feeding and Pasturing of Lambs." Heber's experience in this field goes back twenty years or more, and he gave a number of humorous experiences he had met with in his work. His talk was interesting and showed a carefully kept record of such operations.

444 pupils enrolled in the Public School on Monday, and before the late comers are all entered Principal J. O. Hicken expects the total will reach nearly 550. Only 60 beginners enrolled this year, but a number who were registered to start were not present, because of an epidemic of mumps which is afflicting quite a number of the younger children.

Local Beet Growers Executive Meets

CROP CONDITIONS

This has been a wasted week as far as farm work is concerned Sunday brought three-quarters of an inch of rain over the district, and since then skies have been overcast and there has been just rain enough to keep things from drying so that harvesting or haying could be carried on.

Nothing is being damaged by the wet spell but it is holding up work in grain fields until beets and grain will have to be harvested together, and with the scarcity of labor it looks as if men, women and children would have to turn out and assist in the harvest. Beet digging is expected to start about the 15th, and better than average yield is expected over the district.

Pastures, and hay fields are benefitting by the moisture, but no one is particularly enjoying it because of the pressure of work that is all going to come on at once when the skies clear and harvest again gets under way.

E. E. Jensen is at his desk again in the Treasury branch after his vacation.

Geo. Brewerton and Dr. Hall were in Calgary on business Sunday and Monday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hancock, of Rosemary, Alberta on August 26th a son.

Miss Madeline Witbeck was a Magrath visitor last week, the guest of Miss Melva Card.

Cutting of grain started again Friday afternoon and combining got under way Saturday at noon.

Mrs. Leo Hancock received a cablegram from Leo announcing his safe arrival in England on August 20.

The sunshine was very welcome again Thursday afternoon and Friday after the stormy and cool weather of Monday.

Miss Vera McDermid returned home from the hospital last Thursday evening and is recovering nicely after her operation.

Raymond's special War Savings Stamp Sale met with very good response in the Stores. Returns are not complete, but as near as can be ascertained there were $200.00 worth of stamps disposed of.

Application forms for the sheep extension policy fostered by the Alberta and Dominion governments may be obtained from the Sugar City M. D. office according to D. M. Holladay, Secretary. Interested parties should call at the office and get their forms.

Mrs. H. A. Jones, who underwent an operation this week for the removal of one of her eyes which had been causing a great deal of trouble is improving nicely and the operation has apparently not affected the other eye. We join with her many friends in wishing her a speedy and complete recovery.

The Directors of the Local Beet Growers Association held a meeting last Monday evening, and amongst other things, the following matters were discussed:

Because of the gasoline and tire situation, it was felt that an effort should be made to maintain roads in better condition throughout the district for the beet harvest and committees were appointed to see the Town and Municipal Councils regarding this matter.

Unloading facilities at the Factory and at beet dumps will be checked in an effort to avoid any "waits" for unloading of beets, because of the labor situation which will demand the utmost effort of everyone connected with the beet harvest.

The executive felt that the weighman should provide each load with a slip showing gross weight, per cent dirt tare and weight of wagon screenings so that the grower would have a check on each load delivered. Under present practice one slip is given each morning for the deliveries of the day before and it was felt that this did not give the grower a close enough check.

Because of labor conditions and a feared shortage of men, negotiations are under way with the central executive to see if extra help may be obtained when and if necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Smith of Cardston were Raymond visitors Sunday last. Mr. Smith came down to take part in the Welfare meeting held Sunday afternoon after the regular Conference session.

The School Bell Rings

School opened in Raymond on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, and because of the stormy weather there was a heavy registration in all grades. When weather dries and harvest gets under way the High School numbers will shrink perceptibly as the boys go out again into the harvest and beet fields to assist in taking care of the heavy crop of both beets and grain.

A full corps of teachers was on hand for the school opening and are now getting the schedules and time tables into operation and everyone is learning where and when to get. The Public School rooms, of which we now have two of each, are filled. To date no provision has been made for schooling the Japanese children which have been moved in from the Coast and they are not in school. We understand that negotiations are under way with the Dominion Government to provide schooling for this group, but far and satisfactory arrangements have been completed.

During the vacation a splendid improvement has been made at the High School with the installation of rest rooms there, an improvement which has been badly needed for many years. T. K. Roberts had charge of this work and just managed to get it all completed in time for the reopening of school.

LEARNING TO LIVE u TOGETHER

When Rotary International chose the theme of "Learning to Live Together" for their subject in 1942-43, they certainly selected a thought that struck home to all of us. It strikes home not only as nations of the world, but as communities in our nation, as families in a community and as members in the individual family. Give it a little thought and see how this topic fans out to include the world, and yet narrows down to the individual and his association with his fellowmen.

Man seems to be naturally covetous, envious and resentful toward his fellowman. His neighbor wears a better looking suit of clothes, drives a better looking car, keeps up a better looking home, and we envy. Perhaps this neighbor does not have as much as we have; he may be a better manager with what he has, and he may work twice as hard to enjoy what he enjoys as we do. Chances are, if we knew the whole of the story we would not envy and we would not trade lots with him if we had the chance. Then why envy unless we know the whole story. Our neighbor slights us, or at least so we think. Instead of inquiring and finding out if it was intentional, we nurse feelings of dislike and almost hatred, and sometimes these misapprehensions grow until we refuse to speak to each other or associate with each other. One of our worst faults, possibly, is imagining that our neighbor thinks he is better than us. There are very few people who have any desire to give a feeling of superiority

Most of these people are grossly misunderstood and we misjudge them. Possibly they are at fault in not being as sociable as they might, but certainly others are at fault for judging them for something that is not intended.

And so, there is a world of work for each of us "in learning to live together." The L. D. S. Church is trying to school us in welfare work, but we don't take very kindly to it. Other organizations are endeavoring to foster projects that will increase brotherly love and understanding, but we are very diffident in the support we lend to these things. There are two things we must teach ourselves first, that we are our brother's keeper, and that without love of fellowman true love of God is impossible. When we school ourselves to an appreciation of these facts then we may reach out in an effort to learn how to live together as nations of the world.

Lamont Leavitt of Cardston was in Raymond Thursday with a load of lumber.

AIRGRAPH LETTER FROM OVERSEAS

Percy W. Cope,
Raymond
Alberta
Canada

Hello Percy:

At last I get a chance to write to you and a good way to, I am doing fine and so far making the grade, lots of ups and downs but you can expect that when you are Sgt. Major, I have a very good bunch of boys and get along very good with them, of course they are getting wise to a few things and I sure have to watch myself cause they can sure pull some good stunts off at times. You know the old saying, why the Hell did I join up, well that's one of the things they are saying now and a few more things that would not pass the censor, but you would know them all. Well Percy don't think this is just like the last war it's so different and such a bigger job and nobody seems to worry, in fact you people worry over there more than the people do here.

I am keeping up my end so far but I am stiff and tired some days, but I think I will make the grade. You see I was young in the last one and am in very good condition now so will last a while. I would very much like to get in Germany again but the places where I was stationed are no more now or Air Force fixed that.

It's funny to hear the old Hun engine and the old familiar noise, you know it. Well so long for now.

Sam Dyson.

TEMPLE NOTICE

Because of unfinished work in the Temple, it will not open until Tuesday, Sept. 15th for baptismal work and Wednesday for ordnance work. This information came in a letter from the Recorder. Interested parties please note.

CONSERVING KITCHEN EQUIPMENT

Conservation of metals means more for armaments and munitions, for aeroplanes and for the ships at sea. Every article of metal in the home, from pots and pans to flyswatters, must be made to last as long as possible. Here are some pointers in the use and care of metal cooking equipment:

Any aluminum pots or utensils can be made to last longer if they are washed as soon as possible after food is cooked in them. Never use an alkaline solution such as soda, as this corrodes the metal. Clean with a mild soap and finest abrasive.

Treat enamelware with great care as the surface is only too easily cracked or chipped. Never allow to boil dry, and cool before washing. Do not pour cold water into a hot pan. Soapy water boiled in the pan will loosen obstinate burns.

Iron pots should be well dried after washing. An iron utensil used only once in a while should have a thin coat of salt less oil or fat put on it, then put in a dry place, and wrapped in paper.

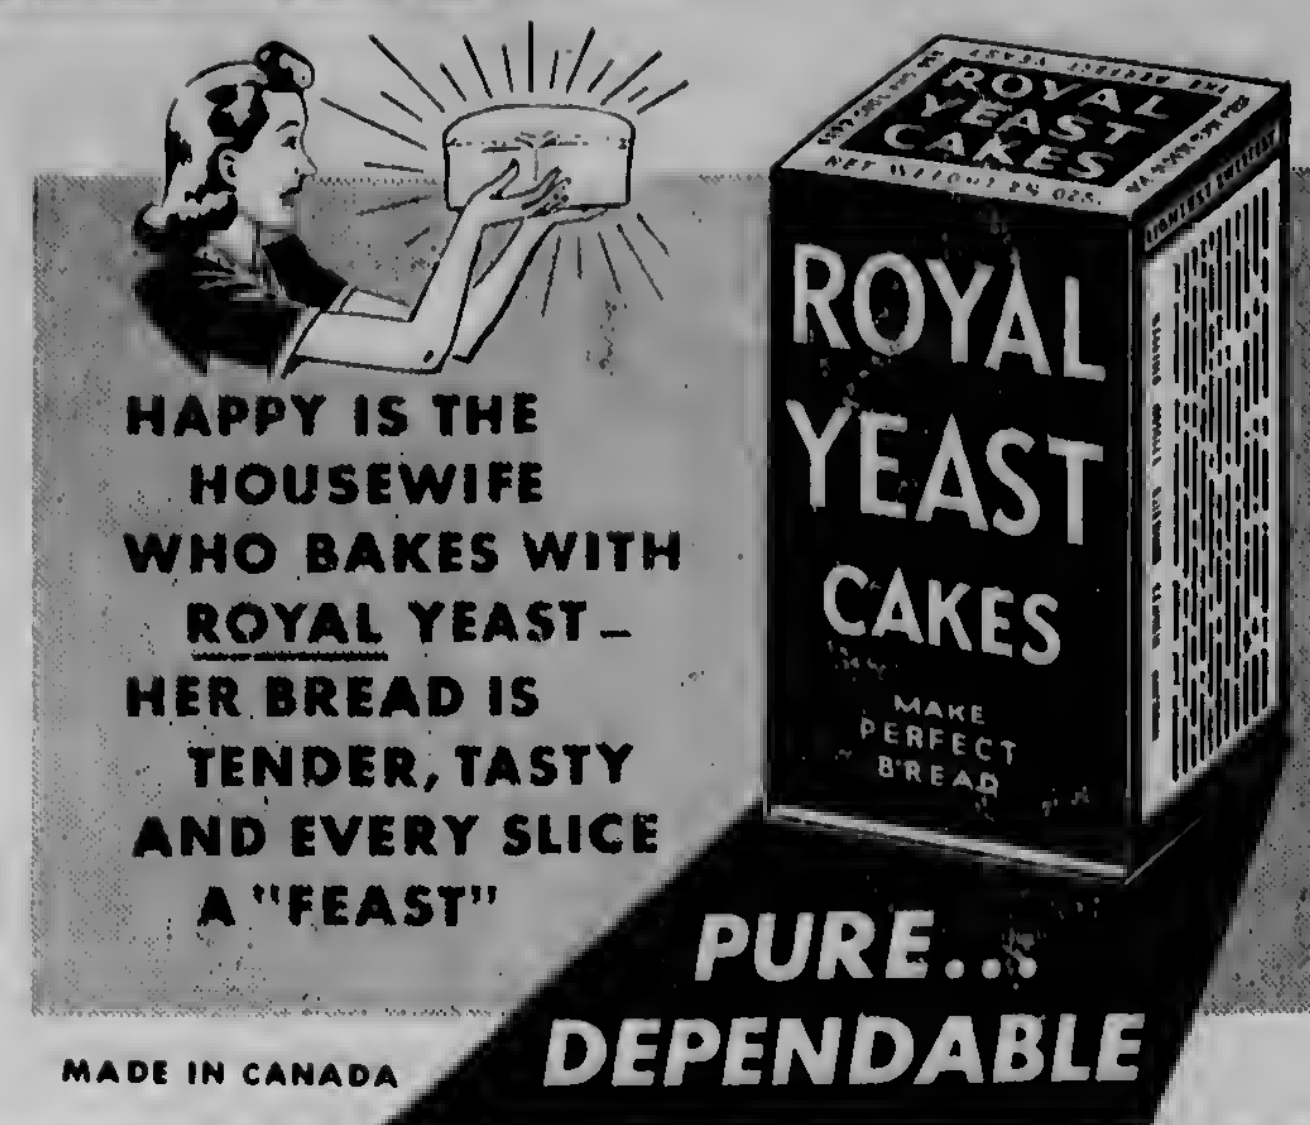

Stainless steel can be kept clean with a gritless cleaning powder or very fine steel wool, otherwise the usual washing, rinsing and drying.

To keep brass and copper clean and in good condition, wash with soap and water. Spots may be removed if rubbed with hot vinegar and salt or lemon rind and salt or buttermilk.

Nickel and chromium plating can be kept bright by being wiped with a damp cloth or with washing in soapy water, rinsing and drying.

As to tin don't try to keep it shiny, or the thin coating of tin will be taken off. To remove burnt food try boiling a little soda and water in the tin pan, but don't boil it longer than 5 minutes. After drying stand in a warm place to be sure that there is no moisture left on the surface before putting away.

FALL IRRIGATION

This is the time of year when farmers having access to irrigation water must decide about fall irrigation. Those that are on large irrigation projects have learned that anything they irrigate in the fall does not require as much irrigation next year. Usually the fall irrigation means one less irrigation for the following crop. The same is true, of course, on farms where small reservoirs supply the irrigation water.

On any irrigated farm it is good practice to fall irrigate hay and grass lands, and usually stubble land or fallow can be fall irrigated with profit. As a rule lands that are irrigated in the fall do not require another irrigation in the spring to produce the first crop of hay. If not fall irrigated, it becomes necessary to spread water over alfalfa and other hay fields in early May to ensure a good crop.

About the only disadvantage of fall irrigation is on land that is to be planted the following spring which may be quite wet for working if there is much spring rain.

Where small storage reservoirs are used, the big milk vat and cheese press for the Cheese Factory arrived on Wednesday's freight and have been put in place in the factory. It will not be many days until they will be ready to receive milk and cheese making will start.

voirs supply the irrigation water it is possible to take the water from the reservoir in the fall and store it in the soil with a fall irrigation instead of leaving it in the reservoir where it will add to the spring runoff which if excessive may make it difficult to control, or at best to use profitably. Water stored in the soil in the fall is almost a good for the next year's crop as it is if left in the reservoir and applied to the land in the spring.

If the reservoir is quite full this fall, as is the case in some localities, it may be quite desirable to lower the water level of the reservoir to decrease the danger of ice damage to the dam or the headgate structure. This can be done without loss of water by fall irrigating and thus storing some of the water in the soil that otherwise would be left in the dam.

Another advantage of fall irrigating is that after harvest there is generally more time available to spread water than can be found in May or early June. In addition the fall irrigation assures the crop of having a good early moisture supply which it may not have if the farmer is too busy to irrigate in the spring.

Those who have not adopted the practice of fall irrigation will find that it is a most invariably good practice to irrigate alfalfa and other hay crops at that time, and that frequently land to be planted in grain can be safely irrigated in the fall.

BLAME THE CANADIANS

In some parts of England everything that goes wrong is blamed on the Canadians. If your cat or dog has strayed from home Your cows at ev'n to milk do not come Some say its luck but then some Blame the Canadians. If some things tend to disappear Or noises in the night you hear And you lock your door at nite in fear Blame the Canadians. If cigarettes are all sold out And you cannot buy a pint of beer Some get mad and rave and shout and Blame the Canadians. If your missing some of your chickens And your ducks are gone to the dickens Blame the Canadians. Well Blame the Canadians If your best garden stuff is gone That might for you a prize have won You needn't blame it on your son Blame the Canadians. If your daughters best liked beau Is snubbed and just told to go Don't say nothing you just know Its the Canadians. If the blight is on your crop The rainy weather will no stop Or the birth rates going up Blame the Canadians. The above was contained in a letter recently received by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greep from their son Jim, who is in England.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

Variety Test Plots

It has been our experience that when visiting experimental farms, farmers and others are always interested in variety test plots, and in new or unusual crops they have never seen before. With this in mind we sent seeds of wheat, oats, barley, corn, soy beans, grasses, alfalfa, etc., to country grain buyers willing to sow and weed the plots. Last year these plots were very popular. Several grain buyers reported that every farmer in the district visited the plots, and some farmers paid regular weekly visits.

This year we have 311 plots in the prairie provinces. About half of them include annual crops only, such as: wheat, oats, barley, soy beans, corn, etc. The remaining plots have, in addition, perennial grasses and clovers. All include a variety of "hybrid" corn for comparison with standard varieties.

A complete list of plots, giving the location (town), and elevators in charge, has been sent to all grain buyers of line elevator companies associated with the Agricultural Department of The North-West Line Elevators Association.

In order to find out where the nearest plot is, therefore, enquire at the local line elevator. Schools, Junior Clubs and other groups are cordially invited to make up parties and visit these plots. Insofar as the quantity of material permits, grain buyers will be glad to supply small bundles (when fully ripe) for display in schools and elsewhere.

1942 HANDLING CHARGES

The Alberta Pacific Grain Company has completed arrangements with the Wheat Board for the handling of wheat of the 1942 crop delivered to the Wheat Board through Alberta Pacific elevators.

The operating basis and margins provided in this agreement, under which all elevator companies will operate, are not exactly the same as recently announced by the Alberta Pacific, but the benefits to producers generally will be as substantial as those outlined in our announcement. The reduced margins this year, when compared to those of last year, will result in benefits to farmers ranging from 1/2c to 2c a bushel.

America's First Naval Base In Europe -- Centre
Of Anglo-U.S. Naval Collaboration

Completed in February 1942 after six months intensive construction, the new U. S. naval base at Londonderry is one of the most efficient in the world. For long months before America's entry into the war, British warships sailed alone from Londonderry to fight the battle of the Atlantic; today U.S. warships co-operate with them. Picture shows: A U. S. destroyer watched by British sailors on a passing ship that is steaming into port.

"We'll have
after this war!"

OUR FAMILY went through hard times once. It taught us that you can't keep your independence without foresight and sacrifice. We learned what we could do without when we had to. So we know that a real nest-egg means more than just compulsory savings. It means all the War Savings Stamps and Certificates we can lay our hands on.

They're safe. And they're an investment every Canadian should make. Why? Because they help equip our fighting men to protect everything we've got. And because, too, they pay back $5.00 for every $4.00 we put aside now. We've got to win this war no matter what it costs — and we've got to prepare against the time when the boys come home.

Buy War Savings Stamps from druggists, banks, post offices, telephone offices, department stores, grocers, tobacconists and other retail stores. Certificates may be purchased for immediate delivery in denominations of $5, $10, $25 from Banks, Trust Companies and Post Offices.
